What is the Designblok experience?

Openstudio expositions

Designblok 2024 after-movie

The central theme for the 27th Designblok is COURAGE.

“For me, courage is one of the most important ingredients of quality design. Designblok sees courage in each exhibitor’s drive to push their work further, to go where no one has gone before, and use not only traditional craft techniques but also new technologies. Not being afraid of new solutions and one’s own original expression is the cornerstone of success. For me, Designblok 2025 will be about the courage to connect individual disciplines, placing design in a widely social context, and the search for the best solutions, all the while paying attention to female designers and all women who have made a significant impact on the world’s design scene. Joseph Grima – the eminent British architect, design theorist and creative director of Design Academy Eindhoven, Alcova Milano and Alcova Miami – called Designblok a ‘nurturing subject’ who helps transform the legacy of central Europe into a modern and prosperous society. All that without exhausting our unique resources, adopting a creative, responsible approach to production, and spreading awareness among the wider public. We wish everyone much courage in continuing this mission!”

*Jana Zielinski,
Designblok director*
